IT is easy to be glib about the victims of the depression; easy to say airily that jobless men can live on their savings if they have been prudent, can get help from relatives, and can, all in all, "get along somehow."

Parks Elected Over Kitchens, Majority of 291

Calhoun County Throws Out About 2,000 Illegal Votes

GIVES PARKS LEAD

Kitchens Refused Recount of Votes in Ashley County

LITTLE ROCK. — (AP) — Tilman B. Parks was nominated over Wade Kitchens in the face of complete and official returns Tuesday from the Democratic runoff primary last week. Parks' majority is 291 votes. The tabulation:

Parks 1,065, Kitchens 1,374. The Calhoun county Democratic committee Monday threw out about 2,000 contested votes and certified Parks' vote as 642 against 537 for Kitchens.

The official count for Calhoun county gave Parks 1,065, and Kitchens 1,374. The Ashley county committee Monday refused a petition by Kitchens for a recount of four boxes and certified the vote as Parks 1,472, Kitchens 1,063.

The unofficial count for Calhoun county was: Parks 1,340, Kitchens 1,149. Kitchens had a majority of 45 votes over Parks in the face of official returns from Bradley, Chicot, Clark, Columbia, Hempstead, Lafayette, Nevada, Ouachita and Union counties and unofficial returns from Ashley and Calhoun counties, until the latter two counties certified their returns Monday night. The unofficial vote was: Parks 14,832; Kitchens 14,807.

However, Parks refused to concede defeat in the face of the unofficial vote and declared he felt certain that the certified vote from Ashley and Calhoun counties would give him a majority.

Official vote Seventh congressional district:

| Counties— | Parks | Kitchens |
|-----------|-------|----------|
| Ashley    | 1472  | 1063     |

Declines to Comment

EL DORADO. — (AP) — Wade Kitchens, Magnolia attorney and World war captain, Monday night declined to comment on the Seventh congressional district race in which he was trailing Tilman B. Parks by 291 votes on the basis of official returns.

Informed of reports that he would contest the ballot in Calhoun and Ashley counties, Kitchens said he had no statement to make until possibly Tuesday.

It was reported here that Kitchens would contest all the ballots in Ashley county in which he was refused a recount Monday. Official returns certified by central committees in Ashley and Calhoun counties Monday showed Parks leading Kitchens by a total of 514 votes for the two counties.

Prosecutors Ask Life Imprisonment for Meyers

NORMAN, Okla. — (AP) — Life imprisonment and not the death penalty will be asked by the state for Neel Meyers, University of Oklahoma student, prosecutors disclosed Tuesday as young Meyers went to trial.

He is charged with the death of his campus sweetheart, Marian Mills, who here July 10 as a result of alleged attempted criminal operations to prevent motherhood.

Protection Is Sought Against "Wild Cows"

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo. — (AP) — Butler county farmers have asked Sheriff Lester Massingham to protect their lives and property from the "wild cows" of Butler county.

The farmers, headed by A. B. Partridge, said the cows are wild; that they do not know the purposes of fences and that the sight of a human being just "burns them up."

The cows were shipped to Arkansas from North Dakota as a part of the federal project and wandered into Missouri, the farmers say.

Particularly said farmers in the section were afraid to let their children go into the woods alone.

Several Nabbed With Whisky In Police Roundup

Local Officers Raid Several Places Here, Operators Arrested

LONG COURT DOCKET

Charges Are Aired by Judge Lemley Tuesday Morning

A police round-up of whisky violators here resounded in municipal court Tuesday when a score of defendants faced charges of possessing liquor, drunkenness and driving automobiles while intoxicated.

Chief of Police Clarence Baker and his officers raided several places over the week-end seizing quantities of liquor and arresting operators.

Chester McCaskill drew the largest fines. He was assessed $100 for driving a car while intoxicated and $10 for drunkenness. He appeared both cases to circuit court, and was released under bonds totaling $360.

Results of other cases:

Henry Logan, reckless driving, dismissed on motion of City Attorney W. S. Atkins.

Walter Sanders, assault and battery, fined $25 and costs.

Jesse Atkins, drunkenness, $10.

George Lawrence, receiving stolen property, fined $10 and sentenced to a day in jail.

Herbert Dixon and Dennis Williams, charged with possession liquor, were fined $50 and costs each.

Daisy Johnson was acquitted on charges of possessing liquor, but was fined $50 and costs for carrying a pistol.

Richard Rudd, resisting an officer, fined $50 and costs. He was also fined $10 on charges of disturbing the peace.

Charges against Henry Logan for carrying a pistol were dismissed by City Attorney Atkins.

Henry Turner, drunkenness, $10 and costs.

Frank Noble, charged with perjury, was bound over to the grand jury under $200 bond.

Curley Smith and Buster Yates, robbery, dismissed. Smith and Yates, escaped convicts from the state prison farm, were captured at Murfreesboro Monday and returned to the penitentiary.

Major Thomas, assault with intent to kill, examination waived and bound over to grand jury under $300 bond.

Lin White, unlawful detainer, dismissed by Deputy Prosecutor Vosey at request of complaining witness.

In a civil case A. J. Neighbors was given $81.50 judgment on account against S. H. Stanford.

White & Company was given judgment of $38.64 against Noble Williams in another civil suit, brought into court seeking action on a note.

But the picture is, nevertheless, an appalling one. It is, as the Labor Department experts remark, a picture of a slow retreat from relative security toward destitution.

If the formation of the American Liberty League, with such prominent Democrats as Al Smith and John W. Davis in the van, should help to precipitate a complete new alignment of political parties, it will be a very excellent thing for the country.

This organization, however, for the moment at least, seems without political bias. It is, clearly, a conservative group, and for that reason it is ideally adapted to crystallize and formulate the opposition to the New Deal.

As a nation we are going to make some decisions of stupendous importance in the next few years. We shall be able, to make them much more intelligently if our politics reflects a clear-cut distinction between conservatives and liberals.

The present situation, with each of the major parties suffering from servitude, is not adapted to serve us well in time of crisis.

It will be interesting to see whether the Ontario legislature puts through the "anti-ransom" law suggested by Attorney General Reubuck. ### Cotton Exchange Reopened Here

Louis Sanders Will Again Have Charge of Operations

The Hope Cotton Exchange will reopen Tuesday after a shutdown lasting through the summer months.

The exchange will be managed again this fall by Louis Sanders, with connections with Bear & Company private wire from New Orleans.

Leading stocks, grains and the New York and New Orleans cotton market will be posted daily on the board.

Funds for operation are being obtained through subscriptions from local cotton buyers and business houses.

The exchange is located near the Greening Insurance office.

Another Member of Dillinger Mob Nabbed

CHICAGO. — (AP) — Theodore Bentz held in jail in Grand Haven, Mich., known member of the Dillinger mob, had admitted, authorities said, to being one of those who escaped from a federal trap with his leader and other members of the gang at the Little Bohemia resort in north-central Wisconsin last April.

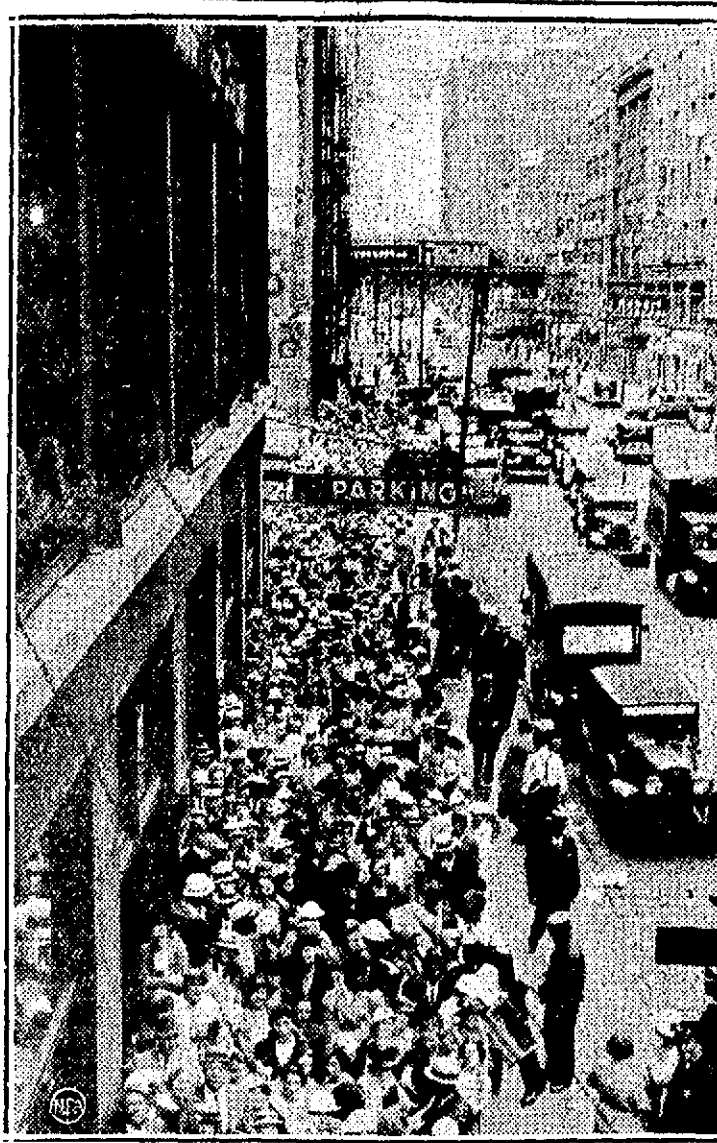

Arrested in Maine, Bentz was taken to Michigan to face charges of robbing the Peoples Savings Bank at Grand Haven in 1933.

His connection with the Dillinger mob was learned when he was identified as a member of the gang that robbed the Merchants National Bank at South Bend, Ind., the "last job" of the John Dillinger.

Assistant Police Chief Leo P. Beron of South Bend revealed identification of Bentz in that robbery, a crime that cost the life of one policeman, Howard Wagner, June 30.

Also identified as participants in the South Bend robbery were John Hamilton and George (Baby Face) Nelson, the officer said. John Doe warrants were issued for them in South Bend and indictment of them along with Bentz will be sought soon it was said.

$26,000,000 to Teachers

The neat sum of $26,000,000 was starting into circulation as this throng jammed a Chicago street. The crowd is part of the army of 17,000 Chicago school teachers lined up to draw seven months' pay, which the city was unable to give them until the RFC loaned the money to the Board of Education. A wave of buying boomed business in city stores and creditors rejoiced as millions in debts were paid by the happy instructors.

Local Boy Hurt in Auto Crash

Jack Cobb Injured at Third Street Crossing Monday Night

Jack Cobb, 23-year-old Hope youth, was injured here Monday night when his automobile crashed into an L. & A. freight train at the Third street crossing.

He was taken to Josephine hospital suffering from numerous cuts and bruises, the most serious of which was two gashes over the right eye.

Cobb was traveling west on Third street and apparently did not see the train which consisted mostly of aluminum-colored oil cars. Witnesses said he drove his car into the train at an estimated speed of 40 miles an hour. A whisky flask was found near the automobile. His car was demolished. Cobb was riding alone at the time of the accident.

Physicians said that he would be released from the hospital Tuesday afternoon, and allowed to return home.

Eight Teams for Softball Series

Double-Headers Scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday Nights

Eight teams have entered the softball tournament, scheduled this week at the high school athletic field to settle the championship title among Hope teams.

A double header is listed for Tuesday night, with Julia Chester hospital opposing the Hope Compress in the first battle.

A second game will see the Hope Oilers pitted against the Missouri-Pacific team.

Wednesday night the Hope Basket company will play Hobbs Grocery, followed by a second game between "M" System and Williams Lumber company.

Proceeds from these games, after all expenses have been deducted, will be donated to the high school athletic fund.

Patmos Lad Injured When Kicked by Mule

"Sonny" Jones, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of Patmos, suffered a painful injury Monday when a mule kicked him in the head.

Hoover's Article Stirs Washington

Former President Hits at Roosevelt's New Deal Policies

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — Political Washington Tuesday wondered if Herbert Hoover was planning an attempt to return to the White House.

Speculation, entirely informal thus far, was stirred by an article written by Mr. Hoover and published in the current issue of Saturday Evening Post.

The former president asserted that the New Deal was an usurpation of liberty.

He was promptly challenged by Secretary Ickes, a former Republican. Mr. Ickes said that when Hoover speaks of liberty, he talks of the rights of property.

The former president, in his first discussion of political questions since he left the White House, decries "economic regimentation" and it is said: "The whole thesis behind this program is the very theory that man is but the pawn of the state."

Mr. Hoover's copyrighted article is titled: "The Challenge to Liberty." The Saturday Evening Post released a portion and not the complete article for newspaper publication. In its statement accompanying the release, the weekly magazine says:

"Although there is no mention of the present White House incumbent by name, a digest of the staggering number of powers delegated to the chief executive is made with the author frankly in disagreement both with current administration policies and with the un-American attitude of Congress in yielding virtually dictatorial powers to the president."

Liberty Being "Destroyed" After sounding an opening theme of opposition to dictatorial governments throughout the world, Mr. Hoover writes:

"In haste to bring under control the sweeping social forces unleashed by the political and economic dislocations of the World war, peoples and governments are blindly wounding even destroying those fundamental human liberties which have been the foundation and inspiration of progress."

Rankin Asks Higher Inheritance Taxes

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. — (AP) — Congressman John E. Rankin, of Mississippi county, proposed Tuesday as the "only remedy" to cure the depression is the raising of inheritance taxes high enough to break up huge fortunes and furnish sufficient revenue to pay the cost of government.

Speaking before the Arkansas American Legion and its affiliated bodies, Mr. Rankin blamed the depression on mismanagement of government affairs.

Bobcats Open Grid Practice Here Monday

With 20 Lettermen Returning, Prospects Are Very Bright

TOUGH SCHEDULE

Bobcats Will Meet Outstanding Teams—Open Season Here Sept. 21

Prospective members of the 1934 Bobcat football team went through the first practice session Monday afternoon at the high school athletic field.

Answering the call of Assistant Coach Jimmy Jones, more than 25 candidates for the initial drill which consisted of punting, passing and a lecture on fundamentals of the game.

Practice will be held once daily until Coach Foy H. Hammons returns from a visit to Florida. He is expected here Wednesday.

Candidates will report twice daily until the opening game here September 21 with Locksburg.

Prospects for a heavy and experienced squad is very encouraging.

Twenty lettermen and a flock of new comers will form the nucleus around which Coach Hammons will build this year's aggregation.

Formidable Backfield.

Coach Hammons will have two sets of backfield stars.

Pete Brown, veteran quarter, will return to his position. Guy Payne, captain and quarterback of the Nashville High School team last season, is groomed for a regular halfback position.

Coach Hammons has another ace in Jack Turner, one of the best blocking halfbacks ever turned out here. Besides his ability in cutting down would-be tacklers, Turner is an adept pass receiver.

J. W. Harper, a dependable back for every occasion and a mainstay of the Bobcat team last fall, will return. He will probably fill the role of fullback this season.

Other candidates for backfield positions include Ray Turner, Cargile, Spears, Strand and Ponder.

Veteran linemen are: Holly, Middlebrooks, Anderson, Stone, Broomfield, Moore, Hitchcock, Kennedy, Hobbs, Owners, Richards, and Houston.

Others who will make bids for line positions are: Laseter, Bradford, Ramsey, Harris, England, Keith, Toland, Wilson and Seares.

Tough Schedule Ahead. The Bobcats face probably the hardest schedule ever attempted by a Hope team. The schedule includes such top-notchers as Little Rock, Fordyce, Hot Springs and Camden.

Nine games will be played here and two away from home.

The schedule:

- Sept. 21—Locksburg, here.
- Sept. 28—Camden, here.
- Oct. 5—Fordyce, here.
- Oct. 12—Hot Springs, here.
- Oct. 19—Texarkana, here.
- Oct. 26—Benton, Ark., here.
- Nov. 2—Arkadelphia, here.
- Nov. 9—Prescott, here.
- Nov. 16—Malvern, here.
- Nov. 24—Little Rock, here.
- Nov. 29—Nashville, here.

One Killed When Blast Wrecks Ship

Three Believed Drowned and Two Others Injured Seriously

SAN DIEGO, Cal. — (AP) — One man was killed, three others were believed drowned and two were injured seriously when a terrific blast wrecked a 33-foot fishing boat here Tuesday.

Force of the blast, which rocked a mile wide area, apparently broke a feed line from the underground gas-line tanks at a service station, causing flaming fluid to gush over the bay.

The dead man was identified as Frank Principato. Cause of the blast was not determined.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — A senate committee began an investigation into the munitions industry Tuesday in the hope, as Chairman Nye expressed it, of averting another terrible world conflict. Nye said the scope of the investigation would be broad.

HYDE PARK. — (AP) — Joseph Kennedy, chairman of the new federal stock exchange commission, reported to President Roosevelt Tuesday that the commission would take over control of the vast securities market on October 1, and added that he saw no harmful effect to legitimate business by doing so.

Slapped!

Three slaps which she alleges were delivered by an irate wife injured her dignity $51,200 worth. Nita Cavalier, blond film actress, testified in her damage trial against Mrs. G. B. Wilson, wealthy sportsman's wife, in Hollywood. The actress is shown in court as she charged that Mrs. Wilson accused her of a tryst with Wilson, then struck her.

Davis Killed In Cleveland Race

Speed Flier Who Won Bendix Trophy Plunges to Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio. — (AP) — Douglas Davis, 35-year-old transport pilot flew to his death Monday in the Thompson trophy contest, speed classic of the national air races.

The Atlanta Ga. flier was racing at a speed of 248 miles an hour when his Wedell-Williams racer crashed just after he had passed the back pylon, seven miles from the municipal airport where 75,000 persons watched the racing.

Only two hours before the crash, Davis had exceeded the world's record for land planes in a time trial. On four laps he averaged 306.215 miles an hour, but set no official record because the National Aeronautics Association requires a margin of 4.97 miles per hour. The present record is 304.98 miles set last year at Chicago by the late Jimmy Wendell.

Davis was leading the field when the accident happened. Col. Roscoe C. Turner of Hollywood, Calif., was the eventual winner at a speed of 248.129 miles an hour.

Eight pilots began the race, an open even of 100 miles over a triangular eight and one-half mile course. This meant 26 steep banks around the pylons at terrific speed.

Two Army Airmen Killed. SHREVEPORT, La. — (AP) — Less than an hour after their bi-motored observation plane cleared Birdsdale field for Natchitoches Monday afternoon, two members of the Army Air Corps from Brooks Field, San Antonio, were dead, and a third man, a private from the same post, was injured, victims of a crash in a rainstorm, near Danville in Jackson parish.

The dead were Cadet Neal Caldwell and Private Betz Baker. Private P. K. Martin fought his way from the wreckage just as flames engulfed it. He was injured only slightly, suffering a cut above the left eye and a lacerated back.

Mayor Walmsley to Be Called as Witness

NEW ORLEANS, La. — (AP) — State Senator James A. Nye, chairman of Huey Long's legislative committee investigating the affairs of city officials here, at his home in Monroe said that Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley would be called as a witness when the committee resumes its hearings this week in New Orleans.

"Mayor Walmsley will have a chance to tell his story before the committee," Nye declared, adding: "So will everybody else who has been named as receiving money for protection of vice and corruption in New Orleans."

"The only way that Huey Long will be prevented from carrying this hearing to a conclusion will be if someone kills him."

Long went back to his old skyscraper hotel "throne" room Monday night to direct the final moves in his bitter "war" to remove Mayor Walmsley from political control in New Orleans.

First Big Test Is Reached In Several Mills

Sympathizers Assault Officials at Macon, Ga., Mill

THOUSANDS ARE IDLE

Varying Estimates Are Received on Effectiveness of Move

By the Associated Press. The general strike in the textile industry met its first big test Tuesday with violence reported in the South and threats of violence in New England where thousands of workers reported for duty despite the strike call.

At Macon, Ga., strike sympathizers assaulted a mill official and overturned an automobile loaded with other officials as they attempted to enter the mill grounds.

In South Carolina, state troops guarded four danger points.

Many employees walked out at Fall River, Mass., but activity there was not at a standstill.

Approximately 95 per cent of the early shift workers in Salem, Mass., mills were at work Tuesday. Other New England points found employees returning to work.

Approximately 30,000 silk workers at Patterson, N. J., went to work Tuesday as usual.

A total of 500 pickets surrounded two Erwin, N. C. mills and forced a complete shutdown in both establishments.

Three other North Carolina points reported workers were returning to their jobs.

There were varying estimates as to the effectiveness of the strike as gauged by the operation of mills. Incomplete surveys of the situation in the South showed 60,000 workers idle and 75,000 at work.

This was the challenge by Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the United Textile Workers' Strike committee, who said he had received reports indicating that 100,000 operatives had responded to the strike order in sections where the Labor day was not generally observed.

On the other hand, George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, said reports from cotton mills in the South showed that 114,000 employees were working and 31,000 were idle. Sloan asserted the "preponderant majority" of southern workers were not in sympathy with the strike.

Seed Problems Are Cleared Up

Stanley Issues Statement Citing Cotton Adjustment Act

County Agent Frank Stanley, Tuesday issued a statement to producers who desire to sell cotton in the seed in an effort to clear up conflicting problems.

The statement, taken from Section 95 of the cotton adjustment act: "In any case where the producer necessarily customarily sells his harvested cotton in the seed to a person other than a ginner, the following procedure shall govern."

"Such producer upon request made to the Assistant in Cotton Adjustment for his county (or, if there is no such Assistant, the County Agent, or the District Agent if there is no County Agent) may have any portion(s) of the whole of his certificate(s) stamped or inscribed in ink on the back with a legend reading 'Cotton sold in seed.'"

"Such stamping or inscribing shall be done by such Assistant at each interval of the certificate corresponding to the space occupied by the serial number on the face of the certificate and the legend for each interval shall be signed by such Assistant."

"Any producer having his certificate(s) so stamped or inscribed may, upon selling any of his seed cotton to any buyer other than a ginner, detach such portion(s) of the certificate(s) as is necessary to express the number of pounds of lint cotton fairly estimated to be contained in the seed cotton so sold."

"Such producer may deliver such detached portion(s) of the certificate(s) to the buyer of his seed cotton after writing in ink or indelible pencil on the back thereof (below each legend) the name of the buyer and the date of the sale and signing his name thereto. Such buyer may deliver such detached portion(s) to the ginner who gins such seed cotton, in exchange for bag tags."

"If the producer sells his seed cotton to a ginner it is not necessary that any stamp, inscription, or endorsement appear on the back of the certificate(s). No detached portion of any certificate which is not so stamped or inscribed and endorsed shall be accepted by a ginner unless it is detached by the ginner."

How to Prepare Food Properly For Groups

Because of the numerous cases of disease and food poisoning that have developed, the Baltimore department of health makes a number of suggestions on how properly to prepare food for large groups. These suggestions are:

1. All persons handling, preparing or otherwise coming in direct contact with the food to be served should wash their hands thoroughly with soap and water, using a hand brush to clean under the nails and the crevices of the skin. They should rinse their hands in running water and dry them on an individual single service towel or napkin.

2. The room in which the food is prepared should be well ventilated, free from flies and other vermin and dirt. All table tops, drain boards, cutting blocks and boards should be washed with soap and water.

3. All dishes and utensils should be washed before being used. Immerse them in hot, soapy water. Wash each utensil there is no evidence of foreign dirt or particles of food. Rinse in warm running water until all evidence of soap is removed. Drain by placing them in a rack and covering them with a clean single service towel or napkin. Do not wipe dishes. Dish towels are so often allowed to fall on the floor or are used for other purposes.

4. Place all perishable foods under refrigeration below 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Do not wrap foods in paper nor store them in a tightly covered bowl. Do not overcrowd the refrigerator; allow room for circulation of air.

5. Allow none but those who have been instructed by the kitchen supervisor to enter the room in which the food is being prepared. Do not permit those persons who are handling or preparing the food to leave the toilet room until they have washed their hands thoroughly in the manner previously described.

6. If the dishes are to be used a second time, see that facilities are at hand for rewashing them adequately according to the procedure given.

7. Do not under any circumstances permit volunteers to prepare in their own homes quantities of food for large groups. These volunteers may be cleanly and spotless in their house-keeping, but when preparing foods on such a large scale, the procedure is entirely different from that used in preparing smaller quantities of food.

8. Whenever possible, all perishable foods should be in the process of preparation be placed in small bowls surrounded by ice, or otherwise kept thoroughly chilled.

9. Have available for food offal and garbage a water-tight metal garbage container equipped with a tight-fitting lid.

10. Plan a nutritious and well-balanced meal, if possible. The variety of food served together with the manner in which it is served, and the wholesomeness of the food all go a long way toward making the affair a success. It is often less expensive to serve a nutritious meal than it is to offer one that does not contain the protective foods, which are dairy products, fresh fruits, and vegetables.

How to Be a Beautiful Guest—Powder Will Make Hit

If you want to make yourself popular with your week-end hostess, take her some of the new makeup gadgets that cosmetics are putting on the market right now.

If she's been doing a good deal of entertaining this summer, the chances are that her supply of guest room cosmetics has run pretty low, so make the most of an opportunity to give something useful.

For instance, a large box filled with smaller boxes of powder in various shades adds glamour to a guest room dressing table. The really de luxe types contain at least eight different tones, ranging from light flesh to blonde guests to deep suntan for the girls who have spent days on the beach. Less pretentious ones are filled with four shades.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Overcoming Fear Requires Tact.

When a child is afraid of something, what are you going to do? Make fun of him, shove him at it, or bully him into a show of courage?

I wouldn't do any of them, simply because it won't be of any use.

Oh, yes, he may pretend to be braver, to laugh at a lot of water, or a dog, or a big bully of a boy. He may put up a grand front as he climbs up the dark stairs alone to bed. But these things do not mean the terror is not there just because he is trying to whistle up his courage. It is well-known that the violent effort to down a real fear by sheer force of will may make the trouble worse.

Before going into the matter of the constructive course to pursue, please let me digress for an instant.

Adults Know Fear, Too
Why do we make such a fuss over the terrors of children when every adult on earth is chuck full of them? Perhaps you think you have none, that you are one of those magicians of wit who is not "afraid of God or man."

All right. You had an abscessed tooth once. Last night you felt a similar twinge on the other side. Did you laugh it off or call the dentist? Or you were up in an airplane once, and the engine stopped. Below was fog and storm and a mountain. The pilot shouted, "Don't worry. We can only die once." I suppose you lighted a cigarette nonchalantly and belittled back, "Have you heard this one?"

We're all cowards under the skin, so shame on us for our bigger, better, holier-than-thou attitude toward children. Fear is natural. Fear of death, and fear of hurt. We're born with it, farfetched unnamable horrors, horrors, called obsessive fears (more intricate of nature), are still based on the same cause.

How to Handle Child
Now as to handling the timid child. Here are some rules.

Don't talk to him (or her) about his fear. Don't mention it at all. You may over-talk. And anyway, words mean nothing.

Never ridicule him or scold him. Don't undermine his self-respect and fertilize his inferiority by over-rating his fear. Why harp on one or two things when otherwise he is a dandy? Why not tell him he's a dandy?

Never, never "force" him into water, into the dark, at a dog, or up against a boy he is afraid of. You may regret it later if terror becomes shock and leaves a mental or emotional "scar" to haunt him forever.

Tact, Kindness and tact. Homopathic methods are best. The shallow puddle and the next day another inch or two may help him see reason about water. By degrees he may lose his fight over "big" water.

The same with the dark—light very, very gradually reduced. It may take weeks or even months. No dogs are necessary. This own experience will teach him in time that most animals need to be tamed.

A big head like a boy's? Never. Oh, yes, he should have other children to handle. Nanny-pummies to play with and learn by degrees that he has to take his own part. But please spare the little fellow that other.

The evening before a marriage in Bohemia finds the young girl friends of the bride making the bridal wreath, each adding a twig of rosemary and a prayer for the winning of a husband; only the bridegroom-to-be is permitted to observe the ritual.

Postoffice boxes are carried on the backs of all street cars in Stockholm, Sweden; when the car passes the postoffice a clerk removes the box and replaces it with an empty one.

dividual powder puffs are decorative as well as useful. The puffs are more than tiny balls of tightly rolled cotton. A guest uses one, then throws it away.

There are small lipsticks, too. And little pads of cleansing tissues for applying and removing lipstick. These certainly save wear and tear on the guest towels.

If your prospective hostess takes great pride in her bathroom, she'll leave a jar of bath salts, box of bath powder and bottle of toilet water in matching odor. Add a package of individual bath powder puffs to that and she'll be doubly glad that you came to visit.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BOOTS RABURN, 18, is and pretty, is snatched by wealthy SYLVIA RIVERS, due to Sylvia's gossip, Boots is forced to resign from the Juniors. Both girls live in Lakewood, fashionable New York suburb.

Start and humiliated, Boots accepts the attentions of RUSSELL, a swimming instructor. RUSSELL returns from a trip out of town and Boots dreads her mother's leaving what boots happened. On impulse she marries him who takes her to live with his brother and his wife. Thus no job and apparently no ambition. Soon Boots begins to see him as he is. She more look for a job one day and encounters ISABEL HATHAWAY, an old friend.

That night Russ announces he has a job in Miami but he cannot take Boots with him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIII

IT was a raw, gray November morning. Boots, walking across Thirty-fourth street through whirling eddies of rain that threatened momentarily to turn into snow was conscious—in spite of a gnawing hunger at the pit of her stomach, in spite of the thinness of her shoes and the razor edge of the wind whipping her skirts about her knees—of a sense of adventure.

The job at Lacy's was already an old story to her. She had been in the chintz department for more than four weeks now, the lowliest of all the clerks. She had gone through the agonizing first weeks of learning to stand on her feet all day, amazed that the human body could stand so much pure torture without whimpering. At night it had been heaven to huddle back in her room to plunge those aching feet into a tub of warm water. Merely to rest, to sit perfectly still gazing into nothingness had been a sort of quivering bliss.

She was past that stage now. She could make out a sales clerk without trembling. She knew the colors and the designs: the Victorian cabbage roses, the blue chintz with the white slag design which all the decorators were using, the stars in red and white and all the others. She knew which were 79 cents a yard and which were less. She felt sometimes as though she never wanted to see a spray of hydrangeas or a funnel of delphinium again. If she had a house of her own, she determined, savagely eyeing the pushing horde of women at the Monday sales, she would have the chairs upholstered in leather, the windows hung in silk.

This was Monday again. Half past eight. The doors of the store would presently be flung open and women from Brooklyn, Staten Island, from Westchester, from up town Park Avenue, from the Bronx, from Chelsea and Queens and Peacock would rush in. Five yards of this, six of that, this sunproof, what? Boots had a need for a change before she left. My change came last night. Where is the change department now?

ALREADY she heard their harsh, demanding, chattering voices. The air would thicken. Scraps of paper would collect behind counters. Salesclerks would maddeningly lose themselves under bolts of material. The morning would drag on. She would go to lunch at half past 11. Forty-five minutes for lunch. It wasn't much. It meant she might go no further than the drug store around the corner. Lacy's had a lunch room for its employees but after one or two half-hearted sorties upon it, finding the food all tasted curiously like old boiled cabbage, the girl had given it up in favor of the inevitable sandwich and soft drink which comprises the mid-day meal of so many thousands.

She was getting $18 a week now and thought it wonderful. True it was not enough—it was not nearly enough—to keep body and soul together in this, America's greatest and richest city, but it enabled her, in the day's phrase, to "get by."

Down in Greenwich Village in the apartment of a large, friendly and rather untidy Mrs. Mooney, she had a box of a room for $5 a week. Sometimes when the weather was not too bad she walked to work, a matter of 20-odd blocks. She never walked at night, however. Her tired body protested that particular economy.

At first when Russ had announced he was going to Florida and that she was to be left behind, "for a time at least," Boots had been dazed with hurt and anger. What on earth should she do alone in New York? To stay with Russ's brother and his wife was unthinkable. Russ's suggestion that she go back to her father's house had met with silence, the silence of defeat, almost of contempt. She had been sullen, voiceless for a day or two as he went briskly about the business of packing. She had been conscious of sheer panic. Then the letter from Lacy's had come on the eve of Russ's departure.

She had literally jumped at the chance. Russ had viewed the situation calmly. It had seemed to him perfectly all right that his wife should manage to exist on that sum. He had not wanted to see her settled. His train had left the very night she had moved into the furnished room at Mrs. Mooney's.

WELL, that was over now; the physical wrench of parting with Russ was over. She had been a bride a few short months ago. Now she was completely alone. In her heart she still confidently expected Russ to send for her. She was in the employee's vest, a white blouse, a peach-colored jersey suit on a bronzed mannequin, looking elegantly on a sand beach under brilliant simulated daylight. Boots caught her breath. She would buy just such a bathing suit as that before she left to join Russ. She had $3 saved toward her ticket. . . . Last week she had hoped to save more but she had had a cold and had had to buy medicine—a throat aspirin and some rubbers. . . . The dressing room smelled of wet wood and cheap scent. Girls mill around, touching up their hair, sliding boots into lockers. A jumble of words. . . . "And I just said to him, I said, 'What do you take me for?' . . . We went to Radio City. . . . Oh, the toilet was lovely. . . . 'It's Ray's Party; I'd you like it.' . . . 'A double decker at the Barrel Race.' . . . 'They give you a dill pickle.' . . . A girl boomed somewhere and the clapping of feet in the corridor outside swelled to a symphony. Clerks from the aluminum-ware, clerks from the furniture department, from the shoes, the ribbons, the linens, the underwear, the millinery shop were all hastening to their posts.

Gives Home Owner Advice on Repairs—Building Expert Writes Handy Guide for "Ailing House"

By BRUCE CATTON

Along with the government's effort to help home owners get loans for repair and modernization of their houses, comes the publication of a book that should fit well into this campaign.

The book is called, "First Aid for the Ailing House," and is written by Roger B. Whitman. Whitman has written a series of 12 articles on repair and modernization of the home. He is a recognized expert on house construction and repair.

In this new book, Whitman goes over the house from cellar to attic, and all around outside as well, and he tells his readers exactly what to look for when things go wrong and then what to do to correct these faults at the least trouble and expense.

Furthermore, the book is written simply and illustrated clearly, so that the average home owner can grasp how to go about keeping the house in good condition. The subjects include such problems as heating the house properly; learning the plumbing and maintaining it; protecting the house from the weather; cleaning walls and furnishings; heatproofing the house; and preventing damage from insects and other pests.

In fact, so many and varied are the Trusses, Abundant Supports, Elastic Knee Caps and Ankles.

Our stock is all new and of the very latest and improved merchandise. We fit children as well as grown-ups. For many years we have sold this line of goods and now is quite an important department in our store. This stock is carried in a separate room where our fitters can serve you without interruption. We make no charge for fitting and our prices will please you.

AVOID ACCIDENTS

BY KEEPING YOUR CAR READY FOR EMERGENCIES

THE PENALTY OF CARELESSNESS

Accidents are caused by carelessness and neglect. There are many parts in your car which can wear dangerously thin when lubrication is neglected. See that your car is lubricated correctly. Bargain grease jobs only lead you into a false feeling of security.

MAGNOLIA SPECIALIZED LUBRICATION

Guard against dangerous unseen wear with . . .

ACCIDENTS happen quickly and without notice. To avoid them your car must respond instantly . . . perhaps a sudden turn to the left or right . . . a quick spurt ahead . . . an instant stop!

Worn parts can't stand this strain. If lubrication has been neglected a vital part might snap when you need it most.

The difference in cost between Magnolia Lubrication and the average "hit-or-miss" grease job is negligible. For your own protection and the safety of your family and friends who ride with you, have your car lubricated at Magnolia Stations and Dealers.

Be Sure You Get ALL 4 SAFETY FACTORS

- 1—PROPER TRAINING . . . Magnolia Men are thoroughly schooled in the responsibility and application of correct lubrication. They know their business!
- 2—ACCURATE CHARTS . . . The Charts used in Magnolia Stations are prepared in cooperation with the engineers who built your automobile.
- 3—CORRECT EQUIPMENT . . . Every Station has complete modern equipment, selected after extensive research by Magnolia Engineers.
- 4—RIGHT GREASES . . . Several different Mobilgreases are used to resist heat—water—pressure. Mobilgrease stays on the job!

Live and Let Live
"Live and let live" was the cry of old.
The cry of the world when the world was cold.
The cry of men when men pulled apart.
The cry of the race with a chill on the heart.
But "Live and Let Live" is the call of the new.
The call of the earth with the dream shining through.
The call of a brother—world rising to birth.
The call of a Christ for a comrade—like earth... Edwin Markham.

New York Mayor Lauds New Deal

La Guardia Makes Labor Day Address at World's Fair

CHICAGO (AP)—New Deal policies, as they affected capital and labor, were lauded by New York's mayor in a Labor Day address at a Century of Progress here Monday.

Henry Goldhamer Leach, editor of the magazine Forum, in a second speech at the world's fair urged customers to boycott all stores charging prices in excess of those published twice a month by the consumers council of the AAA.

The New York mayor said, "I too, admire the rugged individual, I still believe that he is a subject for the poet to sing about and the sculptor to carve into stone. But no rugged individual can survive in the midst of collective starvation."

"Perhaps it is not pleasant to be regimented. But so far as labor is concerned, regimentation is no new idea. It took place a half century ago when the hired laborer took a factory number and gave up his name. If the working people are to be regimented, I would rather see them regimented in honest labor paying a decent living wage than regimented on the belief rolls, on the bread lines and at the doors of private charity."

Leach charged that business had not put public interest above private profits.

"It is apparent that industry has sided with the recovery program to promote widespread price-fixing and open price associations, bringing in their train uniform markups in goods, many of which are not sanctioned by the codes and are even contrary to the federal anti-trust laws."

Laneburg

Miss Margaret Moore has returned to Emmet following a week's visit as the guest of Miss Glyn Bright.

Mr. Frank Barker of Eldorado recently visited his sister here, Mrs. P. C. Sampson.

Mrs. C. F. Nelms and son Charles will arrive Wednesday from a week's visit in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Moore of Emmet were Sunday guests of Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bright.

John Ward Gann arrived Sunday from Paragard for a few days visit with his mother, Mrs. C. M. Gann.

Sorghum Demonstration at Washington Friday

According to Frank R. Stanley, county agent, a syrup making demonstration will be conducted by C. F. Walton Jr., Department of Chemistry, Washington, D. C.

This demonstration will be on the farm of A. N. Stroud, of Washington on September 7. Everything is ready for the demonstration and a good attendance is expected.

Hempstead county makes a large quantity of syrup each year and we are anxious to improve the quality so that outside markets can be reached. It is a known fact that the syrup making operation itself is likewise one of the most important factors governing the factors of the syrup.

It will be of interest to every farmer in Hempstead county who makes syrup to attend this demonstration and see some of the things carried out in actual practice that are vital points in making good quality syrup.

Mrs. W. R. Anderson left Tuesday for Philadelphia, Mo., where she will visit relatives and friends for the next few months.

Popular Grove, 195, Woodmen circle, will meet at the Woodman hall on South Main street, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. A good attendance is urged, as business of importance will come before the meeting.

The Joe Vasey circle of the First Methodist church held their September meeting at the home of Miss Mary Louise Keith on Monday afternoon. The business meeting was conducted by the circle chairman, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, and the program was in charge of Miss Mary Louise Keith, who led an interesting discussion on the life of Christ.

Miss Marie Black gave a beautiful devotional using as the basis the love chapter of the Bible.

An enjoyable feature of the program was the saxophone solo by the Miss Mirances Bruner, a guest for the afternoon.

During the social hour the hostess served a delicious dessert plate.

Miss Emma Carter, librarian at Henderson college, and sister, Miss Lucretia, have returned to Arkadelphia after spending the week end with Miss Ada Mae England at her home near Shover Springs.

Look over all the 300 girls that make up the famous Busby Berkeley chorus in modern screen musicals, and you have this "composite"—blond, blue-eyed Sue Rainey. Sue is only one of the 300, but she's said to be so near the average, you can take her for all.

Giant 3,800 Pound Shark Swallows Yugoslav Girl

SUSAK, Yugoslavia (AP)—A giant man-eating shark, weighing 3,800 pounds, devoured Agnes Novak, beautiful 18-year-old blonde, while she was swimming in the Adriatic sea. Local police reported.

The shark was captured after fishermen fought it three hours, the police said. Its huge body, ripped open, disclosed the girl's mangled body.

Yugoslav newspapers were ordered to suppress the story, because it was thought tourists would be frightened away from Adriatic beaches.

Trained Animal Show Comes Here Thursday

The original Gentry Brothers Trained Animal Show is coming to Hope Thursday, September 6 for a matinee at 2:30 p.m. and a night performance at 8 p.m.

The Gentry show has always been that part of the tented world that caters especially to ladies and children.

Sixty-five dogs, 20 ponies and two troupes of trained monkeys make up the bill. To add to an already pleasing performance, two companies of human actors are introduced at appropriate times.

They are the Steiner Trio, acrobatic performers on horizontal bars; and the Powell Troupe of wire walkers.

Kapitan, dog hero, in the motion picture, "Frozen North," is an added attraction to the show. Kapitan distinguishes colors and works by voice rather than by a "cue" from his trainer.

The show will occupy the grounds at West Avenue B near the city limits.

Despite her advanced age, Mrs. Mooney devoted every possible moment of her time to his cause, including trips throughout the country to plead for support in his behalf. She always insisted her son was innocent in 1916 in which 10 persons were killed and 40 others injured.

In January 1933, Mrs. Mooney made a personal plea in New York to the president elect, Franklin D. Roosevelt. She also toured Europe and the United States seeking to arouse sympathy of labor and other organizations for her son's long struggle for freedom.

Entire Family to Enter University

Mother and Father Will Register With Their Two Children

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—When Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Williams of Conway send their two children to school, they go along with them. All four members of the Williams family will enter the University of Arkansas to begin this fall. Mr. and Mrs. Williams and daughter Elma will enroll for graduate work, while Lilburn, their son, will be a sophomore.

Mr. Williams is well known in Arkansas educational circles. During the last seven years as superintendent of schools at Turrell, Crittenden county, Mr. Williams built that school upon one of the low rated senior high schools of the state to a point where it was admitted to membership in the North Central Association in 1931. He received the bachelor of arts degree at Arkansas State Teachers College in 1929, and for several summers he has been enrolled for graduate work at the University in education and history.

Mrs. Williams and Elma both graduated from State Teachers College this summer. The former will do graduate work in education and home economics at the University. The latter will do her advanced work in English and French.

Mrs. Williams formerly taught at Turrell, and Elma graduated from Gallop College in 1932. Lilburn will be the only undergraduate member of this family of students.

Evangeline Booth Is Elected General

LONDON (AP)—Commander Evangeline C. Booth, 48, was elected general and commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army Monday.

In selecting her on their fifth ballot, the 47 delegates from 22 countries making up the army's high council, not only paid tribute to her record, they voted as well for restoration of the Booth dynasty, that beginning in 1867 when General William Booth founded the army, held sway over the organization until five years ago when the high council ousted General William Bramwell Booth, the founder's son, on the grounds of his ill health.

Bitter recriminations and threats of legal action that followed the removal of General Bramwell Booth came to naught as the aged, infirm leader died shortly afterward. General Edward J. Higgins of England, chosen to succeed him, ruled the army quietly during the ensuing five years.

make the payment of ransom impossible; and in theory, at least, it is a sound program.

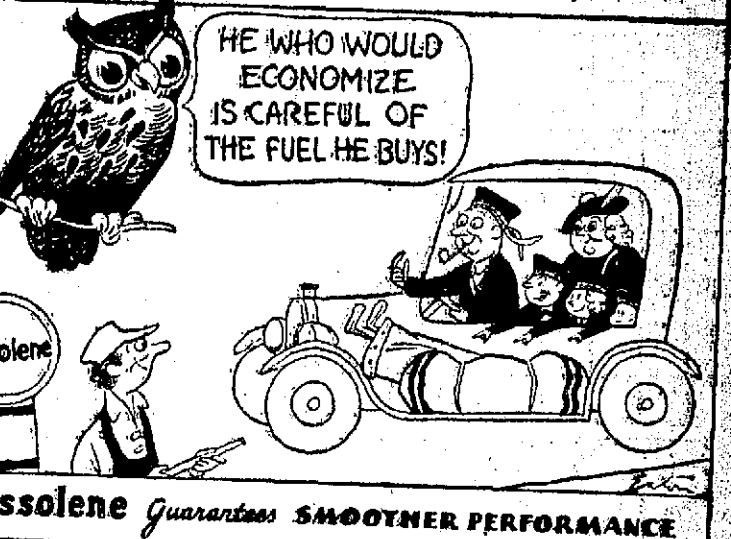

It is perfectly obvious that if you make it impossible for a kidnaper to make a ransom payment, you are going to take all of the profit out of the crime—which of course means that it will presently cease to exist.

The practical obstacles in the way of such a course, however, seem pretty big. It will be interesting to see whether the Ontario officials are able, first, to get the law passed, and, second, to make it work.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

Do you know how to get a good dinner in thirty minutes? If you don't, now is the moment to learn. Ordinarily, dishes that can be cooked on top of the stove or broiled in the broiler are the quickest to prepare. However, any concoction that can be made while the oven is heating and baked in individual molds demands less attention than foods cooked over a hot fire.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By AHERN

NOW, LOOK—TH' LAST TIME I WAS HERE, TH' DICE GO AGAINST ME, SEE—AN' I HAVE TO HOIST TH' DISTRESS SIGNAL FOR CASH, SO I CAN GET BACK TO CHICAGO—AN' I PUT TH' WASP ON TH' MAJOR FOR A $50 LOAN—AN' HE SHRIEKS FOR SECURITY—SO I GIVE HIM TH' DEED TO MY GOLD MINE, TH' LITTLE PHOEBE, AN' TH' BIG CROOK SELLS MY MINE! I'LL SUE HIM!

YOU KNOW, JAKE, I WAS JUST STUDYING YOU! WHEN YOU DON'T SAY ANYTHING, YOU LOOK SORT OF SMART!—SO, WHY DON'T YOU GO AROUND JUST NODDING YOUR HEAD, AND FOOL A LOT OF PEOPLE?

UNCLE JAKE, TH' LAST TIME YOU WERE HERE, YOU SAID YOU'D MAKE ME A BOX-KITE TRAP, TO CATCH PIGEONS!

A FAT SURPRISE AWAITING THE MAJOR—

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Rather Crude, but Effective!

TSK TSK! I SURE HATED TH' BOY ON TH' BEARD—BUT HE WOULDN'T LIGSEN T' REASON

WELL, SIR, RON—IT WAS A FUNNY THING! WE WERE TALKIN' YOU AN' I, AN' LAY ME FER A CORNERSTONE, IF A CHUNK OF HICKORY, OR SOMETHIN', DON'T PLOP DOWN OUTTA TH' TREES AN' TAG YUH RIGHT ON TH' BOTTOM OF YER FACE

ALLEY OOP

Friend or Foe?

KOYKAWOW, FOOZY! DO YA THINK WE'LL EVER GET OUTA THIS JUNGLE?

I CERTAINLY DO, WHY? DON'T YOU?

WELL, MAYBE, IF WE DON'T STARVE T' DEATH, FIRST, IF ONLY I HAD AN AXE OR SUMPIN', SO WE CO'D GET US SOME MEAT, IT WOULDN'T BE SO BAD, BUT I'M SURE SICK OF EATIN' NUTS AND FRUIT!

WASH TUBBS

Running Him Ragged!

AT LAST, DOG TIRED AND BRUISED, THE PARTY STOPS FOR THE NIGHT.

IF YOU'RE STILL AFRAID OF WILDCATS, SUE, YOU CAN SLEEP IN A TREE.

EAT WOT?

OW!

WITH A GROAN OF MISERY, HORATIO BOARDMAN REMEMBERS THE ELABORATE SEVEN-COURSE DINNER HE DISDAINED BACK AT HIS LODGE.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

With His Own Eyes!

HUTTY, PLEASE DO AS I ASKED YOU.... CUT YOUR LINE AND LET'S GET BACK TO CAMP!!

AW, LET'S WAIT AND SEE WHAT HE HAS!!

CHARLIE, WHAT IN THE WORLD HAVE I HOOKED? YOU'RE AS WHITE AS A SHEET!

IT IS MY MYSTERY HAVE YOU KNOW, BOY! THE POLY AWAY, AND LET'S GO!

I NEVER SAW YOU GET LIKE THIS BEFORE, CHARLIE! HOLD THE LINE AND I'LL HAVE A LOOK DOWN THERE, TO SEE WHAT I'VE HOOKED!

IT'S KINDA HARD TO SEE... THE CURRENT DISTORTS THINGS SO! BUT I THINK MAYBE I....

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

Whadda Hound!

RAZZED BY EVERYONE FOR HIS FAILURE TO HAD THE THIEF WHOSE DEPREDEATIONS HAVE GIVEN CITIZENS THE GRIEVES, THE CONSERVABLE, HAD BEEN SOMEBODY MEANT AND MAY FOR A SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM

YOU'LL WORK YOURSELF INTO A SICK BED, IF YOU DON'T GET SOME SLEEP, ED HUCKMAN!!

I GUESS YER RIGHT, MAW, BUT I HATE TO THINK THAT A SNEAK-THIEF IS TOO SLICK FER ME—I GOT SOME PRIDE!!

HOW DOW CHUCK!

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

A SPARRER'S GOT A LOT O' NERVE, BUT HE CAN'T LICK TH' ROBIN—TH' ROBIN'S TOO BIG FER 'IM.

I'LL BET YUH TWO BITS TH' ROBIN RUNS FUST.

'RECREATION

By MARTIN

OH, I'M O.K. NOW! I'LL JUST SWIM ASHORE. AND—

NO, I WOULDN'T DO THAT! IF YUH TRY, I'M POSITIVE ANOTHER MESS OF HICKORY WILL LAND ON YUH—AN' WELL—WHY NOT BE SENSIBLE, MISTER?

By HAMLIN

SHHH! QUIET! I THOUGHT I HEARD SUMPIN' MOVIN' OVER THERE!

AW, IT'S JUST SOME LITTLE ANIMAL, OUT FOR A STROLL—C'MON, WE GOTTA GIT OUTA THIS HOLE!

NO ANIMAL EVER MADE A NOISE LIKE THAT! LISTEN! HUMAN VOICES, OR MY NAME AINT ALLEY OOP!

MUMBLE Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz Bzzz

By CRANE

GEE! YOU WERE PLENTY HARD ON TH' OLD BOY, EASY.

SURE, AND I'VE JUST STARTED. IF WE'RE GOING TO WIN THAT $10,000, POWDER, WE GOT TO BE HARD.

By BLOSSER

OH...OH! A SKULL AND A GUN!!!

By COWAN

EDDY, I GOT IT! I GOT IT! I'D PLUMB FERGOT ABOUT OLD SHEP! THAT THIEF IS AS GOOD AS MINE! WHERE'S MY BREECHES?

HAVE YOU GONE OUT OF YOUR MIND, IF WE'RE GOING TO WIN THAT WILD-GOOSE CHASE AT THIS TIME OF NIGHT?

HE'S RADIN' T' GO! I'LL HAVE THET THIEF BEFORE SUNRISE!
